VOL. XXXV HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, TUESDAY, JUNE 17, 1913. No 71

Current Comment.

Six couples were married in Louisville on "Friday the thirteenth."

Andrew Drew, a Chicago aviator, fell and was killed at Lima, Ohio, Thursday.

The Czar of Russia is the World's richest man, having an income of $7,500,000.

Harry Caruth, a brother of the late A. G. Caruth, died in Washington last week and his body was brought to Louisville for interment.

Unless Jack Johnson can get a further suspension of judgment, he will have to go to the penitentiary June 23 for violating the White Slave law.

No Sadie, President "Mario" Menocal, of Cuba, and Dr. "Lauro" Muller, Brazilian Minister of Foreign Affairs, are not women as their names indicate. They are mere men like "Ollie" James and other big statesmen with feminine names

Porter Charlton, who killed his young wife in Italy three years ago, according to a recent decision, must be sent back to Italy for trial. His father is a lawyer in Washington and a strong fight has been made to keep him from being tried in Italy.

Gov. McCreary has a great opportunity in the present spread of "night riderism" in Henderson county, the home county of his principal opponent for the Senate. Conditions are similar to what they were in 1906 and 1907 when the inaction of Gov. Beckham in dealing with the growing lawlessness let it gain such headway that his successor was compelled to spend a quarter of a million dollars or more to suppress the organized lawlessness that terrorized many communities The one effective remedy is to put the military forces in charge of the territory overrun by night riders. The leaders are well known and their methods are fully understood. There are soldiers in Kentucky who know from experience how to suppress night riders. The Governor has authority to call them out. The eyes of Kentucky are on Gov. McCreary.

CIRCUIT COURT.

Yesterday at 1 o'clock, the case of Lackey Steele against the Illinois Central railroad was given to the jury. The plaintiff seeks to recover from the road damages to the amount of $2,500 for injuries sustained at Green's crossing less than a year ago.

After the jury had retired to their room to make up a verdict the case of W. A. Chambers & Co. against F. W. Bowling and others, was called and a jury made up. This case, it is thought, will consume but little time.

There are two cases against the city to be disposed of Wednesday, which if tried, will consume much time. The suits against the city are brought by W. T. Tandy and W. T. Cooper. They seek to recover from the city damages for loss sustained during the night rider troubles, alleging that the city failed to provide sufficient protection to property.

The grand jury handed in a few more indictments last Saturday and were discharged.

Eight Killed.

New York, June 15.—With the recovery today of two additional bodies, making a total of eight, it is believed the roll of victims killed outright in last night's disastrous cave-in on the new Lexington avenue subway construction is completed. The condition of the two injured men dug out of the debris, however, is serious and they may die.

Bank Ruling.

No more national banks of $25,000 and $50,000 capital will be permitted to be organized in the suburbs of big cities, according to a ruling of Attorney General McReynolds.

CHAUTAUQUA OPENS WEEK'S ENGAGEMENT

Great Program With Varied Attractions To Be Seen Every Day.

BOY SCOUTS THIS MORNING

Debate On Socialism To-night Between Seidel And Bede.

The Redpath Chautauqua opened a week's engagement yesterday. The location is the same as last year, on the Metcalfe lot, immediately east of Hotel Latham. The big tent arrived Saturday morning over the L. & N. and was put up Saturday afternoon, holding one of the most complete auditoriums possible. Good seats with backs, roomy stage, electric lights and courteous attention from the crew men, who are all college boys, well made every one feel at home.

The guarantee of 750 tickets were all sold, before Saturday night. The program this week will be the biggest and highest class one week's program ever put on the platform. Chautauqua Lake, N. Y., never put on in one week so many or so varied great attractions as are offered here. Every day has its headliner and all the lesser things are high class and will prove helpful and entertaining.

Think of it, new musical company every day, Kyrl's Band, Ben Greets, Grand Opera Co. Jos. W. Folk, Berger-Marx, Edward A. Ott, Hon. Adam Bede & Emil Seidel, John B. Ratto, Weatherwax Bros. Quartette, and others all of the very best and all for the price you would pay for one or at least two in the city.

The Boy Scouts and Girl's Camp Fire work will prove one of the most popular and helpful features of the week. All children can take part over ten years of age. But all who do must have season tickets. At the last session, time will be given to put on exhibition the work done during the week by a team of boys and girls.

This generally proves one of the most interesting sessions of all. Chautauqua is children's paradise and they come in great numbers.

GRAND JURY

Visits Western Hospital and Gives Glowing Report To The Court.

One of the duties of a grand jury is to inspect all public building, such as the jail, the city lock-up, the county farm, etc. These visits are made, or should be, without notice, so that the jury can acquaint themselves with prevailing conditions.

Friday of last week the jury visited the Western Kentucky Hospital. They went through every building and made a close inspection of every department and found everything in most perfect condition. Cleanliness, neatness and system were all that they should be. The tuberculosis ward was very closely examined and the jury found all conditions perfect.

Mr. C. O. Wright, the foreman, speaking for the jury, gave a glowing account of their visit, saying that everything was above criticism and that the officials and attaches deserve the highest praise for their efficiency and their care for the inmates. Hopkinsville's home for the unfortunates has always headed the list and has a national reputation as model hospital for the most unfortunate class of people on earth.

LONG LIFE ENDS

Mrs Jane C. Smithson Passes Away Near Lafayette.

Mrs. Jane Campbell Smithson died Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the home of her son-in-law, Mr. C. H. Bagby, near Lafayette. She was 90 years old on April 25 last, and her birthday celebration was attended by all of her children, eight in number and several other friends. Mrs. Smithson's health had been excellent, considering her advanced age, up to the day before the end came and her death was very sudden. The deceased was born in Londonderry, Ireland, April 25, 1923, and came with her parents to America when three years old, settling in Virginia. Her husband who served in the Confederate army during the Civil War, was a prisoner at Point Lookout, Md., and shortly after the surrender, was paroled, but died at Richmond, Va., enroute home.

Mrs. Smithson moved to Christian county in 1869, where she had since resided. For some years she made her home with Mrs. W. E. Adcock, one of her daughters, but for the past several years she has resided with Mrs. Bagby, another daughter.

Eight children survive. They are Mrs. Adcock, Mrs. Bagby, Messrs. J. A., T. A., C. W., and L. H. Smithson, all of this county, and Mrs. N. L. Turner, of Guthrie, and Rev. John O. Smithson, of Leitchfield, Ky.

She had long been a member of the Presbyterian church, holding membership at Newstead, and was a lady held in the highest esteem by everyone.

Her funeral services were held at Westminster church, this city, at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Rev. J. C. Tate, of Clarksville, and the remains were laid to rest in Riverside cemetery.

HEART TROUBE

Caused Death of Mr. Charles T. Yancey Last Saturday.

Mr. Charles T. Yancey died at his home on Brown street last Saturday morning. He had had heart trouble, which caused his death, for several months and his family were, of course, not unprepared for the end. Funeral services were held at the home Sunday afternoon and the burial was at Riverside cemetery.

Mr. Yancey is survived by his wife and one son, Mr. Elza Yancey, superintendent of the construction department of the telephone company.

He was in his 69th year and was well known in the county and city. He was a member of the Cumberland Presbyterian church and before moving to the city from the Fairview vicinity, held the office of Magistrate for one term.

HOSPITAL PLANS O. K.

Trustees Met Last Friday and Agreed Along All Lines.

READY FOR BIDS JULY 1.

Three Stories High and Will Have Total of 24 Beds.

The Trustees of the Jennie Stuart Memorial Hospital held a final meeting as to plans for the building last Friday.

The design of D. X. Murphy & Bro., Louisville, was adopted by the board and sent back to the architects to complete their specifications. The Trustees expect to have all drawings and specifications in their hands by the first of July or sooner and will advertise for bids as soon as they arrive.

The building will be practically three stories high, as the basement floor will be but a few feet below the surface of the ground. The dining room, kitchen and servants' rooms will be in the basement.

There will be three wards, four beds in each ward. There will be twelve private rooms, one bed to each, which make a total of 24 beds.

The front elevation is very attractive yet plain in design, the Trustees having notified the architects not to elaborate, but rather give them something pleasing to the eye along simple lines.

The Trustees, as soon as they get specifications and let out the contract for the work will insist on rapid work, as there is no time to spare in getting in the foundation and putting up the walls by fall.

MRS. MAY HUMPHREYS

Passed Away at Bowling Green Yesterday.

A telegram was received yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Thos. L. Yonts stating that her daughter, Mrs. May Humphreys, had died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hugh Morris, Bowling Green. The remains are to arrive here this morning but funeral arrangements had not been completed yesterday afternoon.

The deceased was in the 44th year of her age and had been an invalid for nearly three years. She was a member of the Methodist church, but shortly before the return of Rev. H. D. Smith she, knowing that she had not long to live, expressed the desire that Dr. Smith should preach her funeral service if she lived until his return.

She is survived by five children, Mrs. Hugh Morris, with whom she had been making her home for several months; Misses May and Burnetet; Mr. Adrain Humphreys, of Louisville, and Thos. Yonts Humphreys, who is in the U. S. Navy. When he enlisted at Evansville, about three years ago his mother went with him and gave him to the service of his country.

Hands Hurt.

The six year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Will Bailey had both hands hurt by a rope last week. The boy was at the farm of his uncle, L. M. Hill, west of the city, where a hay lifting machine was being used. He caught hold of the rope, which was running very rapidly and his hands were badly burned and cut.

Aged Lawyer Dead.

Former State Senator George H. Fowery, aged 82, nestor of the Webster county bar, died at his home in Dixon Sunday night after an illness of infirmities of old age.

INSTRUCTIONS

Issued to Postmasters For Handling C. O. D. Parcel Post Packages.

SENATE LOWERING

Many of The Tariff Rates In The Underwood Bill.

As they will go to the democratic caucus, the tariff rates will be the lowest in history and the free list will be the longest ever known—longer than the list as it passed the house. As revised by the senate subcommittees and likely to have the approval of the finance committee majority, the free list will contain among other articles the following: Meats, flour, live stock, wheat, probably oats and oatmeal, barley, rye, lumber, coal, boots and shoes, breads and biscuits, raw wool, sugar to be free in three years, buckwheat and buckwheat flour, cocoa, coffee, tea, cornmeal, fish, bananas, jute, hides, india rubber, indigo, cottonseed oil, castor oil, cod liver oil, potatoes, sago, vegetable ivory, sewing machines, typewriters, print paper, steel rails, pig iron, ferro manganese used in manufacturing steel, photograph films and many chemicals used in manufacturing.

Free listing of these articles which enter into the daily life of the average American it is calculated by the democratic tariff makers will materially decrease the cost of living. Many other important articles will be given lower rates than the Underwood bill gave them.

GRANDPARENTS GALORE

On Ohio Youngster is Lucky Possessor of Nine.

Ashtabula, O., June 16.—Miss Jean Elizabeth Portor, aged ten months, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Portor, of Conneaut, is believed to be the luckiest child in the world in the matter of grandparents. She has nine of them. They are divided as follows.

Grandparents—Her father's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Porter, of Gageville, O., and her mother's father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Peck, of Kingsville, O.

Great-grandparents—Her father's grandmother, Mrs. Mary Jane Swat, of Wanetta, Pa.; her mother's grandmother and grandfather on her father's side, Mr. and Mrs. Anson S. Peck, of Kingsville, O., and her mother's grandmother and grandfather on her mother's side, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Morris, of Charleston, O.

Amputation Necessary.

William Morris, who had his right ankle broken last Sunday, when the horse he was driving ran away, had his leg amputated Friday just below the knee. At first the physicians hoped the limb could be saved. The operation was performed at the Sanitarium, where he was taken when the accident occurred.

SPROUSE'S GREAT DAY

Saturday Was a Record Breaker With the Big Department Store.

MANY "WALKED A BLOCK."

Reaches Out Into an Indiana Town On Another Big Deal.

The opening of the big semi-annual sale advertised by the O. G. Sprouse Co. Saturday was a tremendous success. Great crowds attended the sale, the crowd being the largest on record with this popular house. The cash receipts surpassed any previous day's business since they came to Hopkinsville. The store was rammed and jammed with eager buyers from the opening hour until eleven o'clock Saturday night, making it their banner day. Thousands of dollars worth of values were handed out, but the public is assured that Col. Sprouse has other thousands of values that will be handed out during the next fourteen days of this, his greatest sale.

This is not all, he has found time to take another big plunge in the commercial world and has bought a $25,000 stock at Rockport, Ind., and will go there to close it out, leaving the business here largely in charge of his capable assistants.

Col. Sprouse is a wonderful merchant, a veritable live wire.

PROF. HORACE ELLIS

Superintendent of Chautauqua, Right Man For the Place.

For efficiency, politeness, intelligence and perfect adaptation as Superintendent of the Chautauqua, Prof. Horace Ellis is certainly the right man to please the thousands who will throng the big tent all this week.

Mrs. Ellis and his two sons are with him this week, his two sons having come here from Vincennes to be with their parents, as Hopkinsville is nearer to Vincennes than any other point to which they go during Chautauqua season.

Prof. Ellis is President of a university at this time, has had many years experience in Chautauqua work and recognizes in chautauqua a large factor in elevating and maintaining high standards of living in our country. He is a newspaper man of many years' experience on large papers and has never been able in rubbing up against the world to get quite all the printer's ink off the tips of his fingers and still has a hankering for the editorial room which he learned to love in the days gone by.

AFTER LONG ILLNESS

Clyde Stevens Succumbs to Stomach Trouble.

Clyde Stevens, only son of Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Stevens, formerly of this city, died at his home near Sebree, Saturday. He had been an invalid for several years, suffering from stomach trouble, and his death was not unexpected. He was sixteen years old. The remains arrived here Sunday morning and were taken to the residence of Mr. W. A. Wade, on South Walnut street, where funeral services were held in the afternoon by Rev. H. D. Smith. The interment took place in Riverside cemetery.

Misses Lena and Bessie Walker are visiting in Herrin, Ill.

Mrs. W. D. Tichenor returned to her home in Eddyville yesterday.
